Cops Nab Pinball Machines

Three pinball machines are now stored in the City Hall, awaiting destruction or claim of ownership, as a result of a "raid" by Campbell police Friday. The machines were confiscated from Tony's Busy Bee, 354 E. Campbell Ave., after a report had been filed with local police that illegal payoffs had been made on them on Wednesday night.

The confiscating of the machines, valued at about $750 each, marks the first time in the history of the city that such action has been taken by local police. Payoffs on the machines are in violation of state laws.

Odds at the City Hall this week that no one will come forth to claim ownership and thus face the chances of prosecution. It is expected that the machines will be destroyed when the legal waiting period (30 days) are up. Any money in them at the time will be turned over to the city treasury as required by state law, according to Robert J. Locke, Campbell Chief of Police.

The report of the payoff was made by an "undercover" agent of the sheriff's department. Locke had asked for sheriff's office to check the machines inasmuch as the local police are too well known to act as "undercover" men.

The chief also explained that he had previously warned local establishments that payoffs would not be tolerated at any time.

The actual "raid" was carried on obtrusively just after Tony's opened for business Friday. The city's Department of Public Works assisted in the job. A city truck backed up to the tavern and the machines were loaded and then carted to the City Hall to await their fate. LeRoy Black, street superintendent, and Dick Domain of the street department manned the truck while Chief Locke and Sgt. John Morgan directed operations.

Fourth of July To Be Quiet Here

Fourth of July next Thursday will be a relatively quiet day for Campbell families who plan to stay at home. Outside of the usual minor fireworks displays set off by kids in the evening, there will be no official celebration to mark the holiday.

Many Campbell families are planning to take a picnic lunch to the beach, a favorite holiday retreat, while others prefer to stay out of heavy traffic and relax at home.

In recognition of the day, almost all businesses, city and county offices will be closed as well as the summer recreation programs at the schools, including the high school swimming pool.

Electronic Firms Now Merged May Build Plant Here

Plans for the move of Cascade Research Corp. of Los Gatos to the new Campbell industrial site south of E. Parr Ave. are in the making and contingent upon the merger of Cascade with International Glass Corp. of Los Gatos, according to J. S. Jaffe, vice president of Cascade.

Jaffe indicated that the move was definitely under consideration and that merger plans are progressing but "take time".

The move has been planned since last year when Cascade purchased a twenty acre tract in the industrial site to build new facilities. The company has been situated in Los Gatos since its founding in 1953 and has since outgrown its facilities.

Caseade Corp. specializes in producing microwave components which are used in radar, microwave relays, missiles and test applications. The company also is doing development work on special microwave tubes and test equipment.

Last fall somewhat of a hassle developed between Los Gatos and Campbell when it was learned that Cascade had purchased the 20 acre site. Both towns were eager to have the industry included in their annexation plans. In a letter to Campbell Mayor John M. Chargin, Dwight Caswell, president of Cascade, indicated the company desired to be a part of Campbell.

Since that time Los Gatos has withdrawn the 20 acre site from its annexation plan and the property has been taken over by Campbell.

Supervisors Vote $1,200 to C. of C.

Campbell's Chamber of Commerce will again receive $1,200 from the county for promotion work in the city, the Board of Supervisors ruled Monday. This is the same appropriation that was made last year.

The supervisors voted the appropriation into the budget along with similar bequests to other county cities. Sam Cava, Campbell secretary-manager. was present at the meeting and cited the needs of the community for promotional work. The local C. of C. had requested a hike in the appropriation over last year. All other cities were also represented at the meeting.

Howard Campen, county executive, had perviously deleted the C. of C. appropriations from the budget but he was overruled by all the supervisors except Wesley (Bud) Hubbard.

Shrubs Disappear

Thieves with a taste for shrubbery made their appearance in Campbell last weekend when nine expensive evergreen plants were taken from the front of the Ainsley Corporation office on Harrison Ave.

The expensive young evergreens had been planted only for a few months and were part of the overall landscaping program around the office. They were carelessly dug from the ground and tire marks at the scene indicated that a truck or similar vehicle had been used to cart them away.

Ronald Arnold Heads Lions

Ronald Arnold, proprietor of The Cabinet House, became head of the local Lions' Club when Thayer Lyon, retiring president, turned over the gavel to him at a dinner meeting June 8 in Live Oak Inn. Installing officer was Leonard Bocci, attorney and Lion district governor.

Other new officers installed during the evening were Ambroise Mirassou, first vice president; Bob James, second vice president; Ross Walker, third vice president; Hall Haynes, secretary; and Ted Solari, treasurer.

Arnold and five other members, Verle Grizzle, William Quigley, Bob James, Hunt Miller, and Bud Weeks, are among the 40,000 Lions from 35,000 clubs in 80 countries gathered in San Francisco this week for their annual International Convention which opened Wednesday and continues through Saturday.

Highlight of the four-day confab will be the "Key Members" breakfast Thursday morning in Exposition Hall. Over 2000 Lions are expected to attend.

For sponsoring the Christian Brotherhood Hour over seven years, Radio KLOK will be honored at an "Appreciation Luncheon" to be held at 12 noon Tuesday, July 2, at the Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave., by the San Jose Ministerial Association, Santa Clara County Council of Churches, and Twentieth Street Church of God

The program is rated third best of its kind in the nation and is broadcast at 8 p.m. Saturdays over a national hook-up.

Ranchitos Residents Present New Complaint

Aroused homeowners in the Los Ranchitos tract of Campbell, who last week at the City Council meeting vigorously protested the proposed apartment house development for their area, took on another target this week in the shape of a swimming pool.

Without lessening their firepower leveled at the apartment houses, the newly formed Homeowners Association representing the present 100 homeowners of the tract and a potential of 126 more, this week dived figuratively into the swimming pool that had been promised by the developers of the subdivision, the Trojan Construction Co.

According to Roger Meagher, 1730 Palo Santo Drive, spokesman for the association, the Trojan Construction Co., had reportedly told prospective buyers of homes in the tract that a swimming pool would be constructed in the tract as part of the "Cabana Club" with each householder having a share in the club.

According to Meagher, it was understood that the pool would be 75-feet in length but when excavation started last week it developed that the pool would only be 50-feet. Therefore residents in the tract, as share holders in the enterprise, wanted to know "how come".

A representative of the Trojan Construction Co. at a meeting of the Homeowners Association told the assembled group that it had been originally planned to have a 25-foot wading pool combined with the pool. However, health authorities had advised the construction firm to separate the two pools and that was the plan that was being carried out.

The residents at the end of the week were waiting further word from the firm as to plans for the wading pool.

Meanwhile down at the other end of the tract, the proposed apartment houses loomed menacingly. Meagher said that a delegation from the Association would be present at the City Council meeting Monday night and would probably present a written petition to the City Fathers protesting the erection of the two-story multiple dwellings in what had been originally planned for a shopping center location. At the previous Council meeting, with more than 40 residents present and with Steve Carter, 1774 Palo Santo Drive, as spokesman an oral petition against the apartment houses was presented.

The Council has directed City Attorney Joseph Bonacina to study the situation to see if the City Council has the authority to stop the apartment houses. Bonacina is expected to report at Monday's meeting. The Planning Commission has already approved the plans.

COUNCIL TO MEET

Unless a number of unscheduled events make their appearance, the City Council meeting Monday night at the City Hall promises to be a routine affair.

City Dads are not counting their blessings prematurely for these "routine meetings", they recall, often turn into something far different from what was anticipated. The meeting is called for 8 p. m.

Nice Playthings

A 16-year old Campbell youth, the alleged owner of a complete hoodlum arsenal (except for firearms), was apprehended by Campbell police early Wednesday morning in the act of breaking into his parents' garage.

The youth had been the subject of an all-out police search since Monday after his parents reported to Campbell police that he had run away. They also turned over to the police the arsenal they had found in the boy's room. The boy had taken off on his motorcycle.

According to Officer Carl Arnold, the lethal weapons included a loaded billy club, a loaded pipe, an industrial-type chain with wood handle, a number of switch blade knives and several brass-knuckles.

SIGN RIGHT HERE, JACK . . . Apartments Get Okay from Planners But Warehouse Must Wait on Zoning

Another apartment house for Dunster Drive (behind Lee Bros.) got the approval of the City Planning Commission Thursday night when a variance was granted Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Becker for a three-unit dwelling. But the Planners postponed action on a variance of a warehouse building at 49 E. Parr Ave, in the new industrial park area.

The Beckers had asked for a variance because the lot contained only 6,000 square feet instead of 8,000. The property was already zoned for multiple dwellings.

The warehouse application in the industrial park was made by Mr. and Mrs. Oleg A. Lubeckis who planned to construct the building on one-acre owned by them directly across from the property owned by Cascade Research.

The City is now in the process of enacting a new type of zoning, "controlled manufacturing". The property owned by Lubeckis is in the area that is being considered for this type of zoning. For that reason, the Planners decided to wait until August 6 before taking action on the variance. By that time, they felt, the City Council's thinking on the matter will have crystalized.

The Planners approved the modified plans for the new office buildings of Sanitation District No. 4 which will also be located in the induustrial park area. They had previously been granted tentative approval of the plans subject to modifications.

Was It Hot Enough For You ? ? ? ?

Sweltered, sizzled, fried and broiled were just a few of the more complimentary expressions used this week in Campbell as the heat wave bent its fury on the populace.

Fortunately there is no "official" temperature for Campbell but there were plenty of private readings reported as the mercury climbed to its dizzy heights.

Homer Hyde, manager of the Campbell Water Co., reported that the thermometer at the water plant hit 98 on Monday which was about par for the course. It was still hot on Wednesday but not as.

Homer also reported that a new record in gallonage pumped was set by the local water company on Monday when 2,418,000 gallons were consumed. The gallonage dropped on Tuesday and again on Wednesday but it was still hitting above the 2 million mark as the 9-day heat wave wavered to its end.

RR Crossing -- New Road Block for Industry

Keen disappointment was expressed by the property owners involved when the proposed development of Campbell's new industrial park at the south city limits struck another road block last Thursday night at the City Planning Commission meeting.

This time the railroad crossing at Dell Ave. provided the snag to delay matters.

Because it was determined that the present railroad crossing was not a legal or public one, City Attorney Joseph Bonacina advised the Commission that favorable action for a variance to construct a warehouse at 750 Dell Ave., would make the city liable for a street without a public crossing.

Until August 6

Faced with this dilemma, the Commissioners reluctantly postponed any action on the variance until August 6 when it was felt that the situation might be closer to a solution. By that time, it was hoped, the feasibility of making the Dell Ave. crossing "legal" could be better determined.

The request for the variance for the warehouse was made by R. L. Townsend and H. J. F. Ludeman, industrialists from Wichita, Kansas. They purchased the property on Dell Ave. before it was annexed to the city and have waited on the sidelines until the city could officially act.

During their enforced waiting period, however, they have cooperated with city officials in an effort to complete the necessary preliminary groundwork so they could start on their improvement program as soon as possible.

Need Planners O.K.

They had announced that they were ready to go ahead with their first building, if the approval of the Planners could be obtained. It was necessary to obtain a variance for the warehouse building because all areas when annexed come into the city zoned residential.

How much longer they now must wait until the status of the railroad crossing is determined was anyone's guess this week.

Tied in with the same question is problem of a street and highway plan for the entire industrial park area. Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, has been instructed by the Commission to draft such a plan and he made a preliminary report on his study at the meeting. He noted that the Dell Ave. situation was part of the "big picture".

In order to speed up action, Commissioners Richard Salice, Ted Solari and Chairman Sam O'Brien were appointed on a committee to work with Barrett and the property owners involved in reaching some sort of definite conclusion.

Voice Disappointment

Both Townsend and Ludeman voiced their disappointment at the new delay they had encountered. They pointed out that all the matters concerning the streets and other improvements that had been discussed had been covered in the petition signed by 28 property owners requesting that an improvement district be formed.

The petition had been presented on June 3 to the City Council which, in turn, had referred it to City Engineer Mark Thomas and City Attorney Bonacina to determine its legality.

"We are grateful for small favors," Townsend said sarcastically. "We have learned tonight that after almost a month since its original presentation our petition is legal. It ought to have been, your own city engineer, Mark Thomas, drew it up."

He added that it might be wise for all the city officials concerned to read it, again emphasizing that the points questioned by some of the city officials were all covered in the petition.

Have We Done Everything?

"We also want to know," Townsend continued, "whether we have done everything we can as property owners and individuals to bring this to a head. We have done everything we have been told must be done but there always seems to be something else to delay matters. It is pretty trying as well as expensive on those of us who want to get started."

In regard to the discussion on the proposed street plan for the area, Townsend mentioned that he did not think it was fair to make "the small people wait while something nebulous like the San Tomas Freeway, which is supposed to cut through the area, is dreamed about."

Both Ludeman and Townsend also served notice that, although they would not go ahead with their building plans for the warhouse, they would continue to use the residential building on the property as their office under the non-conforming use granted when it was county territory.

City Planners To Hold First Tuesday Meeting

A light agenda is on tap for the City Planners when they hold their first meeting on their new meeting night schedule next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall. Starting next Tuesday, July 2, the Commission will meet the first and third Tuesdays every month. Previously the Planners had met on the first and third Thursdays.

Philip Sondeno is requesting approval of plans for multiple dwelling units on Sunberry Drive and Kamson Way. This is the aftermath of the controversy between Sondeno and residents of Sunberry Drive who had objected strenuously to multiple dwellings at that location.

After a series of meetings, a compromise was agreed upon whereby a cul-de-sac would be constructed on Sunberry Drive and Sondeno would limit his buildings to one-story in height facing the residences.

Another item on the agenda is the public hearing on the zone-change request for Evelyn Sylvia, Lilly B. LaVeque and W. Hardwick for three lots at Esther and Latimer. The applicants want the zone changed from residential to multiple dwelling.

The other items before the Commission are for approval of plans for industrial buildings in the industrial park area of Campbell. Warren F. Brown is requesting approval for plans for a cabinet and fixture shop at the White Oaks Road cut through (off Camden) and Jack H. Craig is asking the Commission's blessing for an office and industrial building in the same general area.

New Pay Scale Interests Mental Health Director

Capitol News Service

The fact that money may talk in a loud tone as far as filling positions of directors of state departments was indicated this week by the announcement of Dr. Walter Rapaport he would like to have back his job as Director of Mental Hygiene.

The position, under a bill approved in the legislature, will pay $22,500 a year—some $4,500 more than it did several months ago when Papaport submitted his resignation.

Rapaport had been considered somewhat under fire when he resigned to return to his permanent civil service post as director of one mental institution (Agnews). The resignation was accepted at the time by Knight, although Rapaport had continued in the position, pending selection of his successor.

Rapaport's announcement that he would take the job back is no firm indication he will have it, according to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. After the resignation, Knight had appointed a citizens' committee to search for a replacement.

"I will request that the committee consider his change of mind," Knight said.

However, he indicated that Rapaport will have to take his chances along with other men the committee might recommend for the post.

"The committee had a rough time trying to sell an $18,000 job to $25,000 people," Knight said. "Now they may be able to do better."

Rapaport's resignation made no mention of it, but numerous charges of brutality, torturing and mistreatment of patients had been leveled at the institutions under his direction. Even Knight admitted one hospital director, in Stockton, "had gone too far" is issuing a rule that doctors were not to be called for dying patients between the hours of 10 p.m. and 8 a.m.

Assembly Group Finds Conditions O.K. In Hospitals

Capitol News Service

An assembly subcommittee studying the state's mental hospitals has issued a report reiterating previous statements that the conditions of "brutality, sadism, torture or beating of patients" which have been alleged do not exist.

But the interim committee on Social Welfare, headed by Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-San Jose), said the food served the patient is "inadequate, monotonous and deficient in nutritional requirements."

"Additional rations, equipment and personnel should be provided," the report said, "to give patients meals at least of equal quality with that presently served employes in employe

A top western official of the denomination will be one of the two guest speakers to address the congregation of the Campbell Seventh-day Adventist Church, Fourth and Rincon, Saturday morning, June 29.

Scheduled to speak at the 11 a.m. church service is S. M. Jefferson, associate religious liberty and temperance secretary of the Pacific Union Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists. His topic will be "No Man Stands Alone", to point out the civic responsibility of Christian citizens to help maintain the American heritage of religious freedom.

Guest speaker at a special 9:30 a.m. mission program will be Mrs. John Oss, who has spent many years in mission work in the Far East and was a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II. She will relate some of her experiences during those years. Accompanying her will be a blind girl vocalist.

Mrs. Dorothy Jensen will be in charge of the Sabbath school for the day, according to Dr. J. S Kootsey, general sabbath school superintendent. The kindergarten division will have a part in the program and all divisions will meet in the main auditorium at 9:30.

On June 22, the guest speaker was Pastor F. A. Pratt, a former missionary from the Far Eastern Division. He and his wife are on an extended tour of the Adventist churches telling of experiences in mission lands.

There are 365 miles of fishable shoreline on Shasta Lake.

Quito Corner

A group of pre-high school youngsters in the Quito area have formed a new club which has the whole-hearted backing of their parents.

Once a month the group gets together for a "Bop" party at the home of a member. Since he or she, which ever the case may be, is furnishing the place for the party, his or her boy or girl friend is required to furnish the refreshments for the evening.

The parties are held at a different home each month and the parents figure it's a good way for the kids to learn a little of the social graces while they are having a good time.

Last Friday, June 21, the party was held at the home of Fred Price, 13221 McDole, who recently has been elected president. Other new officers are Dennis Siebert, vice president; Charlotte McQuarry, secretary; and Paul Hewitt, treasurer.

City Manager Is Needed

In all probability the City of Campbell will have a Chief Administrative Officer at the start of the fiscal year in July, 1958.

The City Council is now making a study of the situation as to the job qualifications, availability of personnel for the position and the salary schedule. The objective is to fill the position with the best person available and for the party to take over by next year.

We have given a great deal of thought to the idea and we agree that Campbell needs such an official. He can be called City Manager, Chief Administrative Officer or anything else but we feel that basically his duties should be that of coordinating the various activities of the City.

This lack of coordination has become increasingly apparent as the city grows.

In our opinion this City Coordinator in no way can be classified as a supernumerary or a luxury for the city government. We can cite example after example where the efficiency of the city government has been lessened because there has been no one person directly responsible or there has been no one who could devote the time to direct a project.

We all know that members of the City Council as well as members of the Planning Commission are unpaid public officials who are doing their job because they feel they have a civic duty to perform. In every instance, besides the time they devote to city business, they must all work at their own business or profession.

Thus it follows that in a growing city such as Campbell the press of city business becomes greater and greater to the detriment of their own. That is, provided the unpaid city officials try to keep their fingers on all necessary city activities.

Take for example the problem of the Planning Commission in trying to provide an overall plan for the development of the new industrial park area of Campbell.

We think this is a forinstance which proves the importance of coordination or the lack of the same. We maintain that many of the delays in preparing this area for industries could have been elimiated had there been one individual who could devote the time and the energy to iron out the thousand and one wrinkles that have cropped up over a period of months and have proved so aggravating to all concerned.

The Planning Commission meets twice a month but the bulk of the work of preparation could have been done between the meetings, if there had been one official responsible to see that it was done.

Perhaps the dollar and cents return to the City would not have been much greater in the long run but the value of good will and public relations often can not be measured in coin.

There have been a number of cases where there has been friction among the various city departments where these intra-office squabbles could have been eliminated had there been one overseer rather than several of equal rank.

It is a common saying that most places need fewer chiefs and more Indians. We hold, however, that in Campbell there is room for one more chief. But he has to be the big one.

We feel that it is a progressive step and a necessary one. We commend the City Council for moving in that direction.

Should They Be Combined?

The problems that beset a growing city such as Campbell are many and varied.

We feel that a civic improvement bond issue is a virtual necessity, for it will give those people who will have the use of these improvements an opportunity of paying for them.

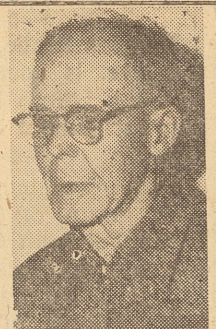
The City Council has forseen the need for this and a bond issue next fall is assured.

There is another problem that we feel is also worthy of consideration by the City Fathers.

We think that the operation of Sunnyvale's Department of Public Safety in which the fire and police department are combined should be studied with the possibility in mind of establishing the same system in the City of Campbell.

We are not in the position as yet to recommend such a drastic move but we think it should be looked into.

Over the Years



By John D. Blaine

Last week I discussed the subject of harassed Hawthorne and Harris, this week I have invited Mr. Robert Harris to express his own point of view in his own words and he has done so in the following article:

WHAT HAWTHORNE WANTS

By Robert M. Harris

With sincere thanks and appreciation to our venerable Judge Blaine who through his openmindedness and sense of fair play has made this article possible.

When the early colonists bordered but a mere fringe along the Atlantic, they established their tiny settlements, built their rude log cabins, their church and general store, and, then, in the very midst, established their powder mill, because they were greatly compelled to rely upon hunting, for their daily needs.

Soon, however, the frequent fires and explosions that sprang from these powder mills caused those early settlers to recognize the danger to the public welfare and so they banished the powder mill to the very outskirts of each community.

This step, aimed toward the public safety, and taken long before the formation of the United States, was really the beginning of zoning.

As settlements grew into hamlets, then into villages, and finally prospered into cities, the problem of congestion and safety became greater and more pronounced.

In an effort to safeguard the public good, measures were enacted which restricted or regulated the rights of property owners. Out of this grew the Fire Zone ordinances, Building Codes, Tenement House Codes, Sanitary Codes, Height Ordinances, etc.—regulatory measures and ordinances adopted in the hope of safeguarding the public welfare.

Cities came to recognize that many occupations and industries were injurious if permitted in every part of a municipality, and as a result, "Nuisance Ordinances" were adopted for the purpose of preventing such injurious occupations to be carried on except in certain restricted localities. Loud protests went up from those who preferred to purchase inexpensive land upon which they could carry on their purpose even though such use resulted in great injury to all surrounding persons and property.

The great courts of the land, in numerous decisions, have recognized this need for protecting the public welfare, and have decided that a nuisance could lawfully be abated and could be banished.

When after the Revolution, the people of the Thirteen Colonies finally determined to organize and create a new Federal Government, certain powers were delegated to the Federal Government and certain powers were retained by the people.

The power to provide for the safety, health, peace, comfort and the general welfare which subsequently was termed by the courts as, "The Police Power", was retained by the people.

This is the great power entrusted to our City Council to pass ordinances and to regulate use of property which is working adversely to the general welfare.

The Hawthorne, Page and El Patio neighborhood has asked the City Council to protect them from the nuisance created by a large trucking firm operating in their midst. This trucking firm moved to the present area about 1943 with a few trucks. Being successful they now operate twenty-odd trucks and numerous trailers. They now build their own trucks in this neighborhood area. Their operations have been around the clock twenty-four hours.

No sane person would dispute the self-evident facts, that twenty ton trucks with their forty ton loads rumbling past one's home in the late hours of night and the early pre-dawn hours of morning—shaking one's house and keeping one from sleep—the sound of air brakes, the headlights shining into one's windows, the screaming of truck drivers conversing across the yard—the pounding of boxes to straighten loads, the choking and coughing caused from breathing polluted air from truck exhausts. This is a nuisance in any neighborhood. However, the people, sixty-odd citizens, merely asked the Council for relief — not prohibition. Would they place some regulations on the trucking firm to decrease the noise—mainly would they direct that the unsightly yard be enclosed with a fence.

In my opinion, the statement from the vociferous and obviously prejudiced Councilman Morton that nothing could be done, as the trucking firm is a

Campbell's biggest fire in recent years, the blaze at Towne Pride Mart a couple of Sundays ago, attracted spectators from all parts of the town which made the firefighters' job that much more difficult.

Chief Jack Scott mentioned that there were times when the firemen were tempted to use their traditional crowd-moving wapon, to wit, the hose filled with water. But they never did.

It was estimated that more than 300 people milled around the burning building, ranging in age from sub-teen youngsters to oldsters in their eighties.

"What's going on in there," he kept wanting to know. Pete and the firemen held their breath and tried to keep him away from the plate glass windows that could have broken at any time but fortunately didn't.

One of the spectators who buckled in and gave the volunteers and regulars a hand was a professional and his assistance was greatly appreciated by all concerned.

We have heard so often of "visiting firemen" that the phrase has become hackneyed. It is used more among service clubs and other organizations than among the firefighting brotherhood.

But in the Towne Pride fire, a "visiting fireman" really did a terrific job, according to both LeRoy Black, street superintendent who is also a volunteer fireman and Fire Chief Scott. Blackie said the guy worked with him on one of the hoses and really knew his stuff.

That is understandable. The visitor was Ashley Hobson, a member of the San Francisco Fire Department, who was visiting his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris, 400 Hawthorne that particular Sunday.

His half-brother, Bob Harris, who recently was the spokesman for the residents of Hawthorne and other nearby streets in their hassle with Nelson Bros. Trucking, said that his brother must have smelled the smoke for he was over at the market which is about a block away before the fire engine arrived.

But apparently smoke-eating comes naturally to Ashley. His uncle was fire chief in San Jose for many years and his father who was fire chief at Sparks, Nevada, was killed in an explosion. He was off-duty at the time and was investigating a fire.

While on the subject of the fire, we might mention that one of the minor tragedies of the day occurred when one of the main hoses broke just as it was being used to an advantage on the blaze.

A new record was set in making the necessary change of hose and fortunately the fire did not get too far ahead in the interim. The arrival of the county fire engine from the Cambrian station also was a factor in confining the flames.

We have to quit writing about the fire for as we pound out these priceless gems on our typewriter perspiration is literally pouring off our fevered brow.

There is no denying that these heat spells make one extremely uncomfortable. Everyone sizzles as the merucry climbs and climbs and climbs. Almost everyone anyway.

As we were writing this we happened to glance at our afternoon mail. One particular release made us even a wee bit warmer before we even looked at the contents.

It was from the California Wool Growers Association and it was reporting that the annual meeting of the association was going to take place in Stockton August 7-8.

We have nothing against wool growers or the association. But on Monday of this week wool was one thing we wanted to stay away from as far as we could. It didn't do anything for us. That is for sure.

It was Monday also that we got into an academic discussion over the weather with our fellow columnist, 82-years young, Judge John D. Blaine.

Our friend the Judge came pedalling up to our office on his bike. We were aghast and pantingly asked him to please be more careful; we needed his column. It was too darn hot, in our opinion, to do anything but pant. And it made us warmer just thinking about riding a bike.

Whereupon the Judge went into quite a lengthy discourse over the fact that riding a bike was one of the most comfortable activities there was for a hot day.

He explained (and it was too hot to argue with him) that the bike does something to the air as it circulates through one's clothes and stuff like that.

We weren't convinced but then again we did some heavy wondering when the Judge waved to us as he gaily rode off on his bike while the sun beat down on us unmercifully and we continued to sizzle.

If this weather keeps up, we may get a bike.

As nearly as we can determine, there is no such thing in Campbell as the "official temperature".

There are plenty of thermometers but no one keeps an official record of the maximum and minimum and stuff like that.

Now with rainfall it's different. Bob James and Homer Hyde down at the Campbell Water Co., continue what Homer's father, Ralph, has done for years and years. That is keep the official rainfall record for the community.

Maybe that's a good thing in a way.

Each office, each warehouse, each store or each home that has a thermometer can record its own individual temperature and the heck with the "official" job.

So you see there is nothing to keep the temperature down around here. Officially, that is.

Our office and back shop did pretty yell as far as being high is concerned. Maybe there were hotter places in town. But we wouldn't care to be in them.

What did YOUR thermometer read?

non-conforming use, has been proven false. This erroneous declaration was made in the presence of our Mayor—our City Council—the learned City Attorney, and our eminent zoning consultant Mr. Barrett, and it will be noted that none of these learned and impartial men took exception, all remained quiet.

This writer, believing that "The rights of habitation are superior to the rights of industry and that when there is conflict the rights of industry must yield", started an investigation by reading decisions of the United States Supreme Court and found that this situation has been argued in practically every city and state in America, and the court in every instance has upheld the laws and ordinances passed to protect the general welfare of the citizens.

Visiting the district attorneys of other larger and more experienced cities, he found that a situation like this above stated would not be tolerated, that the legislature may declare anything to be a nuisance that is detrimental to the health, morals, peace or welfare of citizens. Further, in Campbell's own ordinance it clearly states that the industry must be enclosed with a fence.

In this case the citizens have never asked that the industry be prohibited, only regulated—they have questioned the type of investigation which declares this nuisance to be not a nuisance, they desired to ask other questions which should be allowed under "The Best Evidence Rule" and in which the Council should be interested in reaching a fair and impartial decision.

They have questioned the right of the trucking firm to use as their parking space the railway right-of-way and the public right-of-ways. However, the City Council has not allowed these questions to be asked and refused to have their investigators questioned. This certainly appears an arbitrary and undemocratic attitude.

This writer is becoming more than curious why the City Council has to date taken an attitude of defending the trucking firm and has misrepresented facts. It is to be noted that there are two eminent attorneys on the council plus the City Attorney.

One of the most influential councilmen, I understand, has acted as legal representative for the Nelson Bros. in the past. Sometimes it is difficult to keep one's prejudice from showing.

It resolves itself into the question—In Campbell, have we a government securing the welfare of the people; or do we have a government protecting the welfare of private enterprise?

Campbell Gets $26,451 in Gas Tax from State

Campbell will receive $26,451.42 in gas tax funds, it was reported this week.

A record total of $29,219,479 of state gasoline tax revenues has been apportioned to 338 cities in California for city street work and engineering during the current fiscal year, State Director of Public Works Frank B. Durkee announced.

This is more than $2,000,000 over last year's record $26,957,868.

The total apportionment to the cities in the county for the fiscal year ending June 20, 1957, was $948,893.29.

The gas tax distributed to cities for street work is the revenue from five-eighths of a cent per gallon out of the State gasoline taxes paid by highway users and is apportioned by the State Division of Highways from the State Highway Fund according to law on a population basis.

The additional allocation to cities for engineering, also apportioned on a population basis, is taken from other state highway funds and varies from a minimum of $1,000 for cities under 5,000 population to a maximum of $20,000 for cities with more than half a million people.

As in previous years, the City of Los Angeles tops the list in the amount of money received with a total of $6,886,777.69; Amador, the smallest city in the State, is again at the bottom with a total apportionment of $1,466.55.

Saratoga was among the 14 new communities that entered the ranks of incorporated cities during the past year, making them eligible for a share in the 1956-57 apportionment.

Durkee pointed out that this money allocated to cities is in addition to the funds expended on state highways within cities and included in the State Highway Budget by the California Highway Commission. Under certain conditions, however, the city may, in cooperation with the State Department of Public Works, expend portions of these funds upon a state highway.

State law requires the cities to expend at least 60% of the 5/8 cent gas tax apportionment for construction on streets included in the major street system as designated by the city council and approved by the State Department of Public Works. Up to 40% may be spent for maintenance of city streets.

AN afternoon concert will be performed in the outdoor theater at Montalvo next Sunday, June 30, at 4 p.m., the second event in the current third annual Summer Festival of Music. W. Gibson Walters, associate professor of music at San Jose State College, will conduct the Montalvo Festival Orchestra and Eleanor Bailey, soprano, will be the soloist.

Other events in the festival, which is sponsored by the Montalvo Association, will be a concert by San Francisco Chamber Players, directed by Ferenc Molnar, Sunday July 14, at 4 p.m. in the Montalvo amphitheater; recital of Dave Brubeck's Jazz Quartet Sunday, July 21, at 4 p.m. in Los Gatos High School auditorium; and "Susannah," the new American opera by Carlisle Floyd, which is to be presented August 1 and 2 as the final festival event.

Tickets for all events will be available at the door.

Five Local BPW's Plan to Attend Hawaiian Confab

Five sleepless and excited members of the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club are making preparations to attend the BPWC Regional Convention in Honolulu, Hawaii, July 24 through 27.

The five travelers in the throes of "what shall I take!" are Mesdames Ellen Lanphear, Alma Fanning, Gwen Steindorf, Emily McConnell and Alma Harrison.

Three of the five, Mesdames Lanphear, Fanning and Steindorf, will combine their convention attendance with a vacation and sail Modnay, July 1, on the Lurline for Hawaii.

While in Hawaii, the three plan to go island-hopping by plane to see as many points of interest as possible and also stop off and visit some former Campbell residents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Keesling now living in Hauau on the Island of Lani Ki. Mrs. Keesling was principal of Cambrian Shool a number of years ago and a member of the "Footlighters".

A few days before the convention, Mrs. McConnell and Mrs. Harrison will fly to Honolulu and meet their fellow members at the Princess Hotel.

After filling relatives', friends', and neighbors' requests for various souvenirs, all five will fly back home at the end of the month.

Mrs. Maynard C. Knopf Heads Blossom Valley Garden Club

Retiring president of Blossom Valley Garden Club, Mrs. Dorothy Goble, turned over her gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. M. C. Knopf, at an Installation Tea held Wednesday afternoon, June 19, at the home of Mrs. Fred Starbuck.

Besides Mrs. Knopf, corsages were pinned on the following new officers and chairmen by Mrs. Claude Barham:

Mesdames Galen Thompson, first vice president; Guy Proctor, second vice president; Charles Wood, recording secretary; Lucy Mitchell, corresponding secretary; S. A. Lombard, treasurer; Fred Starbuck, garden consultant; H. M. Wagner, litterbug; Carey Harris, librarian and telephone; L. E. Hendricks, hospitality; Z. H. Hallett, publicity; George Ninnis, historian; James Goble, civic beautification; D. K. Morris, ways and means; John Potgeter, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Barham was assisted in making the corsages by Mesdames Oliver Buehner, Charles Wood, and Clara MacDonald.

Prior to the ceremonies, Mrs. Charles Smith, installing officer, read a "bit" on "Why Do We Garden".

Under the skillful hand of Mrs. Earle Dodson, the club's history for the year became a portrait of the personal lives of members, all of whom enjoyed it immensely.

After installation, Mrs. Knopf presented Mrs. Goble with a compote in hues of brown and beige which she considered "just right for flower arranging."

Mrs. Hallett, plant sale chairman, announced plans for a fall sale to be held in October would be preceded by a "painting and potting bee."

At the executive board meeting of June 5 which was held in the home of Mrs. Guy Proctor on Richland Ave., Mrs. Goble reported on her trip to Monterey as delegate to the State Convention of Garden Clubs and plans were made for the tea.

Another report was on "Penny Pines Plantation," a reforestation project of Garden Clubs of California, which was one of the points of interest visited by Mrs. Starbuck while on her vacation.

Farnham Schools' Summer Program To Open Monday

A summer recreation program will be held at Farnham School from June 24 to August 16, Mondays through Fridays, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., it was announced at the last meeting of the school year for Farnham Home and School Club. Mrs. Pamela Bondelie and Robert Meek will be in charge of activities.

Another announcement revealed Mrs. Betty Anderson's second graders had netted $12.12 from a cookie sale and the money was used to buy three trees for the school grounds.

During the evening a letter from Delos M. Bagby, Cambrian district superintendent, expressing his thanks for the club's cooperation in helping the new school was read to members, and a large portrait of Martin Farnham was shown to the club. Photographer was Otto Jely.

Al Vatuone, principal, was presented with an office fan by wife, a surprise gift from his staff, and Mrs. Violet Pomeroy gave a talk outlining help he had given her and other teachers

Entertainment for the evening was furnished by the school band and orchestra under the direction of Joe Ferrugia.

Planning ahead for the 1957-58 school year, the home and school club voted to hold four big events.

The first will be a box social and country dance in the fall; the second will be "A Night in Paree"; next will be a mother and daughter party, followed by a father and son party.

On the evening of July 4, the club will hold a picnic on the school grounds to which parents and children will bring their fireworks and display them under adult supervision.

Partners Open New Dress Shop

Le Mars, a new apparel shop for misses and children, is the latest of the attractive new shops to open in the 300 block on Campbell Ave. in the last two weeks.

Located at 389 E. Campbell Ave., the shop is owned by partners, Mrs. Marjory Allen, secretary of Ainsley Corporation, and Mrs.Lva Lee Hoyle who is well experienced in selecting styles appealing to young women, girls (especially high school age), and children.

Both women feel "progress in the community the last few years has made people want better things." For this reason they carry moderately priced clothing emphasizing style with quality materials.

Their line of misses wear includes such well-known brands as "Gay Gibson", "Julie Miller", "Kay Windsor", "Waldman", and sports wear by "Graff".

For children, they carry "Trude" and "Kate Greenway" fashions in sizes 3 to 6x, and 7 to 14, including a full line of play clothes.

Due in any day is a new line for sub-teens by "Kate Greenway" called "Dream Age" which should please the most critical young teen-ager, and "Miss N. B. Tween" designed for growing girls between children and subteen sizes.

Crippled Kids Begin First Camping Session

Thrilled and excited, approximately 40 teen-agers and young adults from all over Northern California arrived at the crippled children's camp near Stevens Creek Reservoir Sunday, June 23, for the opening of the first full camping session of the summer.

Younger children will attend later sessions of the camp which is operated by the Santa Clara County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

This will be the first camping experience for many of these children and young people with handicaps and the camp program and facilities are geared to their abilities. It is the only camp exclusively for crippled children in Northern California.

The camp has two swimming pools, one shallow and one of normal depth, as most crippled people can learn to swim. Among the other activities will be suitable sports, nature study, cook-outs, evening campfires, walks in the woods and recreational entertainment.

A limited number of camping reservations are still available at Crippled Children's Society headquarters, 299 W. San Fernando St., San Jose.

LOW DOWN ON SPORTS

By Marvin Moore

Yankees Take Lead

After beating the Chisox Friday, Saturday and splitting a double header Sunday, they took first place by ½ game. Saturday Yogi Berra won the game by hitting a homer in the 13th inning.

Seals Hold Onto Lead

Even though the Seals lost their series five games to 2 they still manage to hold on to first place by 2½ games. Saturday Sal Taormina hit his first home run of the season, but Floyd Robinson hit a home run to win the game 7-6.

St. Louis Takes Lead

St. Louis Cards beat Brooklyn Sunday to keep a one game lead over Milwaukee and Cincinnati.

Billy Pierce

Chicago White Sox, Pitcher

Considered by many as best pitcher in baseball, Billy shared the No. 1 spot in victories and placed second in won-lost Pctg. last season. He also tied for most complete games (21). Billy whipped Cleveland 5 times and Tigers 4 times in a row in '56. In '55 he had the best E.R.A. and led in strikeouts in '53.

Marv Blaylock

Marv cracked through the Major Barrier in 1955 after toiling 8 years in the Minors. He started at Lawton and advanced to Trenton in '50. Late that season he went to the Giants but saw almost no action. By Compiling two good seasons at Minneapolis he went to Syracuse where his .303 batting average marked him as Major League material and he joined the Phillies squad in 1955.

Mickey C. Mantle

Outfield, New York Yankees

Mickey picked up all the AL Batting titles last year. The switch hitting slugger clean sweep included Highest Batting Average, most Home Runs, most runs batted in, runs scored and slugging. Besides that he was elected the most valuable player by unanimous vote! Mickey hit 27 homers in New York; 25 on the road.

Pitcher, St. Louis Cardinals

Hoyt was the second busiest hurler in the National League last year, although he wasn't as busy as in 1951. That year he topped the League in games Won-Lost average. In '54 he again saw the most action and in 1955 he tied for first in Pctg. Hoyt's favorite pitch is a dancing knuckle ball that drives both batters and catchers slightly mad.

More fires last year were caused by careless smokers than in any other way. If you smoke a pipe, cigars or cigarettes, you are a potential fire-starter, unless you practice safe smoking habits at all times.

Follow these few, simple rules and you may save precious human lives, many thousands of dollars in fire damage—and maybe your own life.

1. Watch the matches! Be sure to extinguish every match after use. Don't throw it on the floor, the ground, or into the waste basket. Put it in an ash tray or some receptacle where it can do no harm.
2. Squash out all cigarette and cigar stubs until you are certain that they are "cold."
3. Don't dump ash trays in waste-paper baskets.
4. Be especially careful when smoking around any type of upholstered furniture.
5. Never leave a burning cigarette or cigar "just for a minute." You might forget to come back.
6. Do not smoke in bed.

Last year we Americans hit a new high in fire losses—ten per cent increase over the previous year! Let's dedicate ourselves in 1957 to preventing fires by using care and common sense.

As the Fire Departments' partner in protecting the community against the menace of fire, we are happy to devote this space to fire prevention messages from the Fire Chiefs in our service area.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Fertilize lawns now if they have that "unhappy look". Vigorously growing grass does not show lawn moth damage as readily as grass of poor vigor.

2. Many lawns will take water better and tend to green up if they are perforated periodically Your nurseryman can supply you with easy to use perforating gadgets.

3. Cut off the old flowering spikes of Delphinium and they will bloom again in the fall.

4. Here are a few shrubs which will add fragrance to your garden: Bouvardia, Star Jasmine, citrus trees or shrubs and Osmanthus Fragrans. Yes, even container grown roses can be planted now.

5. Acid loving plants such as Rhododendrons, Azaleas and Camellias will respond to a fertilization now.

Vacation Maintenance

The vacationing gardener is often a person with grave misgivings. He may certainly want to take a trip with the family, visit relatives or see some of the wonders of nature but he leaves his home and garden with feelings of doubt. Will the yard and garden be alive and flourishing when he returns or will an absence of two weeks mean the end of his gardening efforts?

Such gardeners should take heart, says the California Association of Nurserymen for you can prepare your garden to survive two weeks of no care quite well!

Begin preparing your yard for a gardener-less session a day or two before you leave on vacation. Start with the lawn; mow it and leave either the grass clippings on or spread a top dressing of peat moss and then water thoroughly. The mulch will protect the roots from the hot sun and conserve moisture. Fertilize your lawn with one of the new "slow release" fertilizers to encourage the grass during your absence and when you return you will not have a tough mowing job on your hands.

Trees and shrubs should have basins dug around them. Soak them slowly and fill the basins with grass clippings, compost or peat moss. This procedure will conserve moisture and help these plants through a water-less two weeks. For shallow-rooted shrubs, such as azaleas, camellias, rhododendrons and fuchsias a sopping wet mulch of peat moss will serve as an excellent protector of the plant's roots.

Dig shallow basins around your rose shrubs too. Water well, apply some balanced fertilizer at the base of each rose shrub and water it thoroughly. Before you leave, it is a good idea to clip off dead blooms from the roses and spray to retard mildew while you are gone.

You will be surprised how well flower beds survive two weeks of no care if you prepare them correctly. Cultivate the soil so it will soak up water well and then sprinkle it thoroughly. Lay down a top dressing of compost or humus afterwards and water it down well. Water the night before you leave on your vacation.

After preparing your garden you can vacation with an easy mind and return home refreshed, knowing that a healthy vigorous garden and lawn will be there to greet you.

Cambrian Park, Burbank Lions Tie For First Place, Babe Ruth League

Manager Rocci Vizzusi of the Burbank Lions was suspended from the Campbell-Los Gatos Babe Ruth League for one week by the Board of Directors last week for unsportsmanlike conduct in a game Saturday between the Burbank Lions and Cambrian Park.

Action occurred in the fifth inning with the score tied 4-4. The game was awarded to Cambrian Park by forfeit.

This left Cambrian Park and Burbank tied for first place with 3-2 records and only one game separting the four clubs. A possible four-way tie looms this week with West Valley playing Cambrian Park and Avila's Market battling Burbank.

West Valley 11, Avila's 10

Mike Hawkes relieved Valley starter Hal Shaffer in the third inning and held Avila's scoreless for four innings to pick up the win. Terry Leonard drove in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh with a double. First Sacker Larry Miller led the hitters with 3 for 5 while Avila's Walt Christiana got two safeties for the losers.

Cambrian 4, Burbank Lions 4

With the score tied 4-4 in the bottom of the fifth, the game was forfeited to Cambrian Park because of unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of the Burbank manager. Cambrian had scored four runs in the bottom of the first with Burbank getting one in the third and three in the fifth.

West Valley 4, Burbank Lions 3

Pitcher Clark Ransome of West Valley handed the Lions their first loss after three straight wins. Ransome also drove in the first two runs in the first inning with a single. Byron Kibby scored the winning run in the fourth inning being forced home on a walk to John Mesa.

Avila's Market 6, Cambrian 5

The two teams battled to a 5-5 tie on Wednesday in a game called because of darkness. In the completion of the game on Saturday, Avila's won in the bottom of the ninth with Ray Papa driving across the winning run. Shortstop Craig Morton of Avila's hit 3 for 3.
